THE BENEFITS OF AN UNLIMITED CATALOG ACCESS AGREEMENT:

Course Mapping.

We can work with an overall program to map Harvard Business Publishing (HBP) course materials to program-level learning outcomes or with individual instructors to provide a customized map of materials based on specific teaching objectives.

Implementation Support.

We help institutions integrate HBP materials with learning management platforms. Unlimited Catalog Access institutions receive up to 12 complimentary service hours per year from our in-house delivery solutions team.

Teaching Seminars.

To help instructors fine-tune their case method teaching, HBP holds seminars on the art and craft of discussion leadership. An agreement provides up to 3 seminar registrations to be used within each year of a contract term.

Free access to the Case Analysis Coach, an online tutorial that helps students learn to read, analyze, and prepare case studies for discussion.

Exclusive access to new content and tools, often before they are publicly available.

Free one-year online subscription to Harvard Business Review for business graduate students for use after commencement. Help graduates keep up with the latest in business theory as they transition to jobs.

Risk-free trial use of eLearning programs. HBP has developed a range of new eLearning materials, including simulations. We encourage instructors to experiment when teaching with these programs. Use of materials that are not ultimately adopted will not be included in the license fee.

Setting an annual fee allows an institution to more easily predict what its Harvard Business Publishing materials cost will be and streamlines the reporting required throughout the year.
